

Climate Understanding & Resilience in the River Valley

Stakeholder Working Group (SWG) Meeting #1

April 16, 2013 | 1-5PM

Tijuana River National Estuarine Research Reserve (TRNERR) Training Center
301 Caspian Way, Imperial Beach, CA 91932

Meeting objectives:

- Provide foundational information on climate change and adaptation processes, and how it translates to CURRV.
- Establish a collective understanding of existing conditions in the River Valley and vulnerability assessments.

1:00PM Welcome

Dr. Amber Pairis, Climate Change Advisor, California Department of Fish & Wildlife
Chris Peregrin, Acting Reserve Manager, TRNERR

1:20PM Introduction to the CURRV Project

Danielle Boudreau, Project Lead, TRNERR

1:50PM Review Key Documents

Goal & Objectives

2:20PM Break & Existing Conditions Walkabout

2:40PM Collaboratively Planning for the Future: Science informing Climate Adaptation

Dr. Theresa Talley, California Sea Grant Advisor, Scripps Institution of Oceanography
Dr. Jeff Crooks, Research Coordinator, TRNERR

3:10PM CURRV Building Blocks Exercise

3:40PM Rethinking our Relationship with the Planet

Dr. Mike McCoy, President, Southwest Wetlands Interpretive Association

4:10PM Vulnerability Assessment Training

4:40PM Next Steps

Next SWG meeting: Sensitivity

5:00PM Adjourn

